DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-10 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not teach or suggest, in the claimed combination, display device comprising a first power supply section for supplying power to an image display section; an anti-theft section for preventing said display device from theft; and a second power supply section provided independently of said first power supply section for supplying power to said anti-theft section, said anti-theft section including: a vibration sensor for sensing a shake of said display device, a vibration detection section for making a comparison between an output level from said vibration sensor and a previously determined reference level to detect the presence or absence of a vibration, a state retention section for selectively retaining a cautionary state in which caution is taken against theft of said display device and an alarming state indicating that said display device is being stolen, said state retention section making a transition from said cautionary state to said alarming state when said vibration detection section detects a
